

Services Overview

At Quality Web Site Testing, we specialize in evaluating and testing web sites. We don't design or program web sites. Instead we make sure they work on a variety of levels for our clients using industry-wide best practices and organic search engine optimization principles.

Organic search engine optimization is a set of design techniques that improve search engine placement. These techniques are inherent to the design of a site and yield side benefits such as improving browser compatibility, accessibility, and usability.

With our services you get an independent 3rd party to evaluate and test your web site. This is similar to using an architect or building inspector to review your plans and the work performed independent of the company actually doing the work.

Quality Web Site Testing has a flexible test bed that can be configured to many different platforms with different versions of Microsoft Windows, Mac OS, and mobile devices. We use Internet Explorer, Firefox, Safari, Opera, Chrome, and other web browsers. VMWare, Microsoft Virtual PC, and mobile device emulators are used to simulate different platforms.

Most work is performed by human analysis and testing, yet several automated tools are used as aids on our projects:

- SortSite – standards-based tool that checks web sites for accessibility, usability, browser compatibility, and search engine optimization
- PowerMapper – creates site maps, including XML site maps in a Google friendly format
- Inspyder InSite – performs site-wide spell check and link verification

The best time to schedule a free consultation with us is before you start any web site project.

Web Site Testing Services

Does your web site work or does it frustrate visitors, causing them to leave the site before making a purchase or scheduling an appointment?

Test Before Your Web Site Launches

The best time to test your web site is before it launches. That way you can find and fix problems before anyone sees them.

Quality Web Site Testing can work with you and your designer to have the best web site possible before it launches, saving you headaches and lost visitors as well as reducing the number of unneeded, potentially costly, web site changes right after the launch.

Benefits of Web Site Testing

- Finds problems before your prospects and customers do
- Improves visitor experience which can lead to more customers
- Improves compatibility across browsers, operating systems, and platforms

Web Site Testing Service Options

We test web sites using a variety of techniques to ensure the proper operation of your site under different conditions in a controlled environment that you choose. We can test for broken links, display problems, printing problems, site consistency, 3rd party interface issues, and more.

Customize Your Web Site Testing Project

You decide which of the website testing services you need to build a project that meets your budget and goals.

No matter what services you choose, you'll always receive a written report with test results and recommendations to improve your site.
